Product description

Acastus Knight Command Terminal Pack

Banners of Imperial Knights are the perfect way to add to your Adeptus Titanicus battlegroup. A pair of Acastus Knights form a single unit and operate together on the battlefield in support of your Titans – and extra Knights can be added to the banner as well to enhance their battlefield effectiveness.

For each banner of Knights you field, you require a Command Terminal, which provides a detailed surface on which to track the status, damage and weapons of your Knights, as well as the Orders you've issued to them each turn. This set of five large-format card Command Terminals includes enough to add several banners of Knights to your games of Adeptus Titanicus.
