Product description

Fulgrim, Primarch of the Emperor's Children Legion

Fulgrim is modelled in the thick of bloody combat, his arrogance and condescension given way to fratricidal anger and battle-born wrath. This dynamic miniature showcases the full opulence of the III Legion primarch, here captured leaping above the charred rock of Istvaan IV. The Phoenician presents both a painting challenge for those Warhammer hobbyists who chase perfection, and an exquisite centrepiece for any III Legion collection. He is armed with the Blade of Laer, the daemoniac weapon which he used to slay his brother primarch, Ferrus Manus of the X Legion. He is sculpted as wearing the Gilded Panoply, his personal master-crafted armour.

This complete multi-part resin kit is supplied with a 40mm gaming base, which slots into a 60mm scenic diorama base for display. The base of Fulgrim can also be combined with that of Ferrus Manus to create a diorama of the two primarchs duelling, Rules for using Fulgrim in your games of Warhammer: The Horus Heresy can be found in Liber Hereticus – Traitor Legiones Astartes Army Book. This miniature is supplied unpainted and requires assembly – we recommend using Citadel paints.

This resin modelling kit is not a toy – it is a collectible item and construction should only be undertaken by expert Warhammer hobbyists aged 15 years and over.
