Legiones Imperialis: Warmaster Heavy Battle Titan with Plasma Destroyers

This multipart plastic kit builds an epic scale Warmaster Heavy Battle Titan. This massive miniature is armed with a pair of devastating Suzerain-class plasma destroyers and a carapace-mounted revelator missile launcher, making it a true lynchpin around which to build the rest of your army or battle group.

In addition to its primary weapons, the Warmaster boasts two torso-mounted mauler bolt cannons, lascannon turrets built into its greaves that can be hidden behind firing ports, and a quartet of either bombard turrets or defence batteries arrayed atop its hull. Finally, it features your choice of two shoulder-mounted weapons, chosen from an impressive arsenal to suit your tactical needs.

This kit is packed with detail and offers loads of ways to customise your Titan. You'll find heads with three different faceplates and two alternate headplates, as well as three pairs of pauldrons – one with sculpted Loyalist designs, one with Traitor imagery, and one left blank. The kit features joints at various points, allowing you to pose your Titan right down to its tank-crushing toes. Many of its weapons are also adjustable, meaning you can aim them appropriately.

This model can be used in games of Legiones Imperialis, as well as games of Adeptus Titanicus using the included Adeptus Titanicus Command Terminal.

The set includes:

- 1x Warmaster Heavy Battle Titan
- 4x Anvilus-pattern defence batteries or ardex-defensor bombard turrets
