Product description

Stormvault Skirmish Case

The Stormvault Skirmish Case is ideal for transporting and protecting your Citadel miniatures. The revolutionary miniature shock absorption system has been specially designed to fit skirmish squad-size collections quickly and easily without the chore of cutting and shaping foam to fit.

The case is lined with smooth silicone bristles that close together with the lid and grip your miniatures in place securely, protecting them from damage. The two halves allow you to use one side like a tray to place models in before sealing the case with the other, using the clips located around the edge, and each half of the case features a rubber top to help prevent it from falling or sliding off a table.

The bristles are precisely spaced to hold any type of miniature on a 25-40mm round base and up to a 75mm oval base. The bristles have been designed to follow the path of least resistance, moving around even the thinnest piece of plastic, and are completely smooth, so there is no snagging, even with the pointiest spear or a delicate leaf.

Measuring 278x220x41.5mm, the Stormvault Skirmish Case is an ideal way to carry a Kill Team squad, Warcry warband, Blood Bowl team, Necromunda gang, Warhammer Underworlds warband, or any small, but elite, force of miniatures.
